DETAILED ACTION

Oath/Declaration

The oath or declaration is defective. A new oath or declaration in compliance with 37 CFR 1.67(a) identifying this application by application number and filing date is required. See MPEP §§ 602.01 and 602.02.

The oath or declaration is defective because:

It does not state that the person making the oath or declaration acknowledges the duty to disclose to the Office all information known to the person to be material to patentability as defined in 37 CFR 1.56.

The current statement acknowledging the duty to disclose uses improper language "material to the examination" rather the required language of material to patentability and refers to CFR Section 1.56(a) rather than Section 1.56 as required.

Specification

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it contains reference to the figures. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claim 1, it is not clear as to which stand are being claimed by the limitation "both stands" since there may be a plurality of vertical and horizontal stands.

Regarding claims 2 and 3, there is no antecedent basis for "the horizontal stand" and "the vertical stand" since there may be a plurality of each.

Regarding claim 3, there is no antecedent basis for "the another stand" for the reasons stated above.

Regarding claim 6, it is not clear what features are encompassed by the limitation "fitted in stress-free" as any securing means utilized to hold the connection elements in place would inherently have stresses (forces) acting upon it, since otherwise the elements would not be needed.

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

Regarding claim 6, it is not clear what features are encompassed by the limitation "fitted in stress-free" as any securing means utilized to hold the connection elements in place would inherently have stresses (forces) acting upon it, since otherwise the elements would not be needed and since no such features are described in the specification.

The remainder of the action considers the claims as best understood.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1-2 and 5-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ide Kenichi (JP 55-144309). Kenichi discloses a rolling mill having a horizontal rolling stand (VM) and a vertical stand (HM) such that the stands are connected through a member (3) having a right and left flange (4) which in turn is screwed with the horizontal and vertical stand through bolts (5). Limitations of claim 5 are shown in figures (1 and 9). As best understood limitations of claim 6 are encompassed by Kenichi.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-2 and 5-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ide Kenichi (JP 55-144308) in view of Ide Kenichi (JP 55-144309). Kenichi '308 discloses a rolling mill having a horizontal rolling stand (VM) and a vertical stand (HM) such that the stands are connected through a members (5). Kenichi '309 teaches using connection members having a right and left flange (4) which in turn are connected by bolts (5) to the respect stands. Therefore it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art, at the time of the claimed invention, to have utilized connecting members having a right and left flange which are screwed to respective stands in the mill in Kenichi '308 for the purpose of utilizing a removable member which provides a secure connection in order to eliminate vibrations in the mill while allowing movement of the stands if desired.

Limitations of claim 5 are shown in figures (1-4). As best understood limitations of claim 6 are encompassed by Kenichi

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3-4 and 7 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
